

Dispensary Partnership Kit

CannaPickForMe — a strain-discovery app for California's adult-use market.

What's inside. What CannaPickForMe is. Where your dispensary appears in the user experience. Charter pricing for the first five partners per tier. Compliance posture. Reporting commitments. Honest answers to the questions that matter.

Honest framing

We are an early-stage product. We will not pitch you inflated impression numbers. What we are offering is intent-matched placement at a moment of decision, transparent reporting, and a charter rate that reflects where we are today. If those terms work for you, we'd like to talk.

Prepared for the operators of California's adult-use market.

Updated April 2026.

What CannaPickForMe is

CannaPickForMe is a free strain-discovery app for adults 21+ in California. A user answers four short questions about their mood, intended activity, preferred intensity, and social context. The app returns a personalised strain recommendation drawn from a curated library and scored against the user's effect profile.

It is available as a web app (cannapickforme.com) and is built for distribution as a native iOS and Android application via Capacitor.

Verifiable product facts

Strain catalog	222 strains, each tagged with type (sativa / indica / hybrid), effects, flavors, and genetics.
Recommendation engine	Deterministic: the user's answers build an effect profile; each strain is scored against that profile. No
Question set	Four questions covering mood, goal (e.g., relax, productive, sleep), intensity (low / moderate / high),
Audience gating	21+ age verification gate. Cannabis-legal-jurisdiction reminder shown before content.
Authentication	Google sign-in and passwordless email magic-link via Firebase. Cloud sync of user stash across dev
Analytics	Vercel Analytics — cookieless, no personally identifiable information collected. Firebase event trackin
SEO surface	222 indexed strain landing pages plus sitemap. Google-discoverable from queries like specific strain
Engagement layer	A pet-style mini-game (CannaGotchi) that unlocks after first session, increasing return-visit frequency

All facts above are verifiable in the application source code and in the live product. We will share a code-walkthrough or live demo on request.

The problem this addresses

Cannabis is one of the only consumer categories where mainstream digital advertising is not available. Operators are forced into a narrow set of vertical channels — and most of those channels were built around dispensary directory listings, not around the moment a consumer is actually deciding what to consume.

Documented advertising restrictions on mainstream platforms

The following platforms publicly prohibit advertising of cannabis and cannabis-derived products. This is not editorial commentary — these are the operators' own published policies:

Google Ads	Prohibits ads for recreational drugs, including cannabis and cannabis-derived products. Source: Google
Meta (Facebook / Instagram)	Prohibits ads that promote the sale or use of illegal, prescription, or recreational drugs. Source: Meta Ad
TikTok Ads	Prohibits drugs, drug paraphernalia, and recreational substances. Source: TikTok Advertising Policies, "
Google AdMob	Same prohibition as Google Ads applies to in-app inventory. Source: AdMob & AdSense program policie
Apple Search Ads	Prohibits cannabis and cannabis-related products in most jurisdictions. Source: Apple Search Ads adver

Anyone in the operator community already knows this. We mention it only because it frames why brand-safe, intent-aligned cannabis-vertical placements are a structural — not seasonal — opportunity.

Where existing channels fall short

Directory-style platforms (Weedmaps, Leafly, dispensary delivery aggregators) show users a list of dispensaries when the user is already deciding where to shop. The earlier decision — what to consume tonight — is largely unowned. CannaPickForMe is positioned at that earlier moment.

What this means for your store

Our user is not yet shopping. They are deciding. When the matcher returns a strain, we have an opportunity to point that user toward a partner that carries it — before they ever open a dispensary directory. That is the placement we are selling.

Where your dispensary can appear

Three placement surfaces are built into the application today. Each is rendered from a configurable Firestore record — no code changes are required to launch your campaign.

1 • Home banner

Where: Sticky banner on the home screen, visible above the fold before and after the user runs the matcher. Inventory: rotating slot among charter Banner Partners. Ideal for: brand awareness, store openings, new-product launches.

2 • Result card

Where: Appears immediately after the matcher returns a recommendation. This is the single highest-intent moment in the user flow — the user has just been told what to consume. Inventory: rotating slot among charter Result Partners. Ideal for: location and hours, current promotions, delivery options.

3 • Sponsored Strain

Where: A branded card that surfaces alongside the user's match when the user's effect profile aligns with one of your stocked strains. Inventory: first-priority placement reserved for the dispensary that lists the matching strain. Ideal for: driving foot traffic for specific SKUs, moving high-margin strains, supporting brand-house partnerships.

The Sponsored Strain mechanic in plain English

If a user's quiz tells us they want a relaxed, sleepy, body-heavy result, and you carry a strain that matches that profile, your card surfaces alongside the result. The placement is not random — it is the strain you stock, recommended to a user who just told us they want exactly that experience. This is the placement we are most confident about.

4 • Listed Partner (free baseline)

Fourteen Bay Area dispensaries are already named in our platform data. If your dispensary is one of them, your name already appears when users look at the strain you stock. There is no charge for this baseline visibility — it exists so the catalog is useful to consumers. Paid tiers expand on this with geographic prominence, branding, and the Sponsored Strain mechanic.

Charter pricing

Charter rates are offered to the first five partners per tier and are locked for twelve months from the partnership start date. After the charter cohort is filled, pricing will be adjusted to reflect audience growth. Charter terms are documented in writing.

What you will not get from us

We are not going to promise a specific number of impressions, conversions, or in-store visits during the charter period. We are still scaling our audience. What we will do is share monthly placement reports drawn from real platform events, give you ninety days to evaluate, and let you cancel any month with thirty days' notice if the partnership is not delivering. That is the deal.

Charter cohort terms

- Pricing locked for 12 months from your start date.
- First five partners per tier qualify for the charter rate.
- Cancel any month with 30 days' written notice — no annual commitment required.
- Creative changes per quarter; intra-quarter swaps available at no charge for time-sensitive promotions.
- Monthly reporting delivered by the 5th of the following month.
- Net-30 invoicing or stored card on file (Stripe). Credit card preferred.

Compliance posture

Our compliance position is conservative on purpose. We want to be a platform an operator's compliance team will sign off on without revisions.

21+ age gate	All users must affirm 21+ before any cannabis content is rendered. Age affirmation is stored locally and
Legal-jurisdiction notice	Disclaimer screen reminds users that cannabis must be consumed in a legal space, before any session
No purchase facilitation	We do not take orders, process payments for cannabis goods, route deliveries, or hold inventory. We are
FDA-required language	Strain pages and disclaimers carry the standard "not evaluated by the FDA / not intended to diagnose, treat
Federal-status acknowledgment	Disclaimers acknowledge cannabis remains a Schedule I Controlled Substance under federal law.
Data privacy	Cookieless analytics (Vercel Analytics). No personally identifiable information collected from anonymous
Authentication	Firebase Authentication (Google standard) — passwordless email magic links and Google OAuth.

Reporting commitments

We share monthly partner reports by the 5th of the following month. Reports include:

- Placement impressions (count of times your card was rendered).
- Engagement events (taps to your dispensary, expansions of your card).
- For Sponsored Strain partners: match-rate (count of user matches that surfaced your strain).
- Geographic split where available (city-level, derived from anonymous IP — never user-identifying).
- Top three matched strains across the platform that month, for context.

If a metric is too small to be meaningful in a given month, we will say so. We will not pad reports.

How to start

The cleanest first step is a fifteen-minute call. We will walk you through the live product on the screen you keep behind the counter, show you the exact pixel where your placement renders, and answer your team's questions before any paperwork.

Standard onboarding sequence

- 1. Discovery call (15 min) Confirm fit, walk the live product, answer compliance team's questions.
- 2. Placement preview (within 48 hours) Preview of your card rendered in the live app, sent as a screenshot for sign-off.
- 3. Charter agreement One-page partnership letter with charter rate, term, cancel terms, reporting commitments.
- 4. Creative intake (1 week) We collect logo, dispensary copy, and (for Sponsored Strain) the up-to-three SKUs you want.
- 5. Go live Placement activates. First monthly report lands by the 5th of the following month.

Closing note. The cannabis discovery layer is being built right now, and the operators who help shape it early will have the best leverage when the audience scales. We'd rather have five charter partners who genuinely use the platform than fifty who treat it as a logo placement. If that framing matches how you think about partnerships, the next step is a call.
